DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 8, 2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 3-4, 11 and 12 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wachtler et al. (US Pat. No. 6,274,391).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 6 remains rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wachtler et al. (US Pat. No. 6,274,391) in view of Shibamoto et al. (US Pat. No. 6,563,212).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed August 8, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant once again argues that the reference Wachtler fails to teach the limitation of:

“a thermally conductive material adhering said at least one microelectronic die back surface to said recess bottom surface.”

However, this argument fails for the simple fact that Wachtler explicitly teaches the argued limitation. For instance, Wachtler explicitly states that a semiconductor device (16) is secured within cavity (14) of substrate (12) by adhesive [col. 8, lines 53-55], wherein the adhesive is thermally conductive [col. 8, lines 55-59]. Thus, Wachtler clearly anticipates the argued limitation.

Applicant continues by arguing at least five teachings that lead away from what is claimed. This argument is without merit for at least the following reasons. First, Wachtler explicitly teaches the claimed invention in column 8, lines 53-59. For this reason alone the argument fails. Second, the court has held that "[t]he prior art's mere disclosure of more than one alternative does not constitute a teaching away from any of these alternatives because such disclosure does not criticize, discredit, or otherwise discourage the solution claimed..." In re Fulton, 391 F.3d 1195, 1201, 73 USPQ2d 1141, 1146 (Fed. Cir. 2004). Third, it has been held that the description of the article pictured can be relied on, in combination with the drawings, for what they would reasonably teach one of ordinary skill in the art. In re Wright, 569 F.2d 1124, 193 USPQ 332 (CCPA 1977). Thus, the fact that Figure 21 omits the adhesive is not sufficient proof that the layer does not exist. Please note that Figure 21 in combination with the written description of the figure make clear that an adhesive is used to adhere the semiconductor device (16) to the substrate (12) [see col. 8, lines 55-59]. Therefore, applicant arguments are not persuasive. As such the rejections are considered to be proper.

Conclusion

7. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE

Art Unit: 2815

FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
